Building Community. Enriching Lives.

LEADERSHIP LENS

A Message from Savannah Whicker, CEO

As July begins—a month of celebration, reflection, and momentum—we're excited to share some powerful new ways ECHO Housing & Community Development is connecting with the community.

First, we're proud to launch CANdId Conversations, our new bi-weekly radio segment airing every other Saturday from 8–9 a.m., beginning July 5th on WEOA 98.5 FM | 1400 AM | 100.7 FM. This series is part of our Collective Action Network (CAN) and is designed to bring real stories, real voices, and real conversations to the airwaves. Each episode features feedback from residents, community partners, and frontline leaders sharing what's working, what's needed, and how we can keep moving forward—together. We hope you'll tune in and be part of this evolving story.

Also launching soon: the House of Bread and Peace Raffle returns on August 1st! To make this year's raffle exciting, we're limiting the number of tickets sold—giving each supporter better odds at winning while increasing our collective impact. Every ticket helps women and children move from emergency shelter to stability, offering them the security and independence they deserve.

Finally, as we mark Independence Day, we're reminded that true freedom means more than just historical legacy—it means building a world where everyone has a place to call home, a voice that's heard, and the support needed to flourish. That's the future we're working toward at ECHO, and your continued partnership helps make it possible.

Thank you for standing with us in this work. We're honored to serve this community with you.

FROM THE FRONT LINES

HVRP Cookout Celebrates Veteran Strength and Community

ECHO's Homeless Veteran Reintegration Program (HVRP) hosted a meaningful cookout at Gresham House to celebrate the Veterans enrolled in the program. The event was filled with great food, laughter, and camaraderie, honoring the strength, service, and ongoing journey of each participant. These gatherings are more than just a meal—they're a reminder of community, support, and the progress being made together.

SERVICE SPOTLIGHT

David was recently seen pulling weeds along the sidewalk in front of Promise Home, a quiet act that demonstrated his growing sense of responsibility and pride in his environment. The task wasn't assigned—he simply took it upon himself to help maintain the space for everyone.

His case manager consistently emphasizes the importance of taking pride in your home—whether it's a place you own, rent, or live in through permanent supportive housing. That message has clearly resonated with David.

Since transferring to Promise Home from ECHO's Scattered Sites program, David has begun to come out of his shell. The supportive community and structure at Promise Home have allowed him to continue building stability and confidence.

What may seem like a small act—tending to the sidewalk—speaks volumes about David's journey. His actions reflect a deeper commitment to his home, his growth, and the community around him.

MEENA'S PLACE

Transitional Housing for Women

PROGRAM UPDATE

We're excited to share progress on Meena's Place, a vital new transitional housing program created through a partnership between the JD Sheth Foundation and ECHO Housing & Community Development.

Meena's Place will serve women transitioning out of emergency shelters like the House of Bread and Peace—providing a safe, supportive space where they can continue rebuilding their lives. Too often, women face setbacks due to a lack of short-term housing options. This program will fill that gap, offering up to four women at a time the stability they need to grow, heal, and prepare for permanent housing. Thanks to generous supporters, we've already raised $10,100 toward our $300,000 goal to renovate and remodel the home. Your continued support will help bring this much-needed project to life. 📱 Scan the QR code to help us keep the momentum going!
